

Dave Hitchcock

Born in Nelson, BC and raised in North Vancouver, Nanaimo has been Dave's home since 1986. Dave spent the first 23 years of his time on the Island in the commercial finance industry where he served as COO, CEO and Director of several private and public companies and gained experience in corporate governance, creation, and implementation of guidelines for various committee charters. Dave made a career change in 2010 and became a licensed Realtor which he has been enjoying ever since.

Dave got involved with Habitat for Humanity Mid Vancouver Island in June of 2015 when he volunteered on several local build days and had the privilege of adding 'my small contribution to their operation both locally and internationally ever since'. In April of 2018 Dave was also fortunate enough to be part of a group from Nanaimo who went to Nicaragua to build a home, experience their culture, and see firsthand how far-reaching Habitat's helping hands really are. Dave is a great believer in the good that this organization does. Dave says he, "Hopes you'll join us on a build day, volunteer at the Re-Store or just donate 😊 You won't regret it!"

We build strength, stability, and independence through affordable homeownership.
