

Lynne Henshaw

With a passion to create positive impact locally and abroad, Lynne has spent the last 15+ years of her career working with non-profit organizations and government contracts focused on many diverse areas including education, homelessness, healthcare, and seniors. Originally graduating university with a degree in marketing communications, Lynne's work experience and professional development have broadened her scope to include community development, project management, human resource management, and team leadership. Lynne has served as a director on the Habitat for the Humanity Mid-Vancouver Island board for six years, including Board Chair.

We build strength, stability, and independence through affordable homeownership.
